The City of Hamilton

Occupies an area of about 4000 acres, and is situated upon a plain that rises gradually from the shore of Hamilton Bay, a beautiful land-locked harbour at the western end of Lake Ontario, to the base of the Niagara escarpment. From the summit of this escarpment, or mountain, as it is generally called, a magnificent view is to be had. The city lies immediately below, the squares in the centre are as distinct as a chess board, and the foliage of the majestic maples, with which its streets are lined, make a veritable garden lying at the sightseers' feet. One cannot stand upon the mountain without being struck with the surprising beauty of the surrounding scenery.

Extending from Beasley's Hollow on the west to the Delta on the east, a distance of nearly five miles, and in width from the Mountain to the Bay, about two miles, lies the beautiful city, with its wide, regularly laid out and well paved streets, its fine churches, residences and public buildings, and its wealth of beautiful shade trees.

To the north are the clear waters of the beautiful Bay, with the green banks of Oaklands and the blue heights of Flamboro' Head for a background. To the west is the beautiful valley and town of Dundas, nestling among the surrounding forest-covered heights.

Turning the eyes further north one looks over the Bay to the blue and placid waters of Lake Ontario, while separating the Bay and Lake is the Beach, glistening and gleaming in the sunlight like a ribbon of burnished gold.

This is Hamilton's favorite summer resort. It is* about five miles long, and stretches across the eastern end of the Bay from shore to shore. It has an average width of 300 feet, and is intersected only by the Hamilton Canal, which affords an entrance to the largest lake-going vessels.

At the north end of the Beach are seen the white houses of the pretty village of Burlington. Allowing the eye to wander towards the east, there is seen a panoramic view seldom met with—fields of green and gold, like a tasselled pavement, broken here and there by tracts of woodland, and in the distance the blue waters of Lake Ontario form a fitting frame for so beautiful a picture.

At the western end of the Bay is another canal and the picturesque Burlington Heights, where to this day can be seen the remains of the earthworks where in 1812 General Vincent and his handful of troops kept the Americans at bay.

With the aid of electrical science, the possibility of utilizing the waterfall of over 200 feet, obtainable at Decew's Falls, where the waters of the Beaver Dam creek flow over the Niagara escarpment, to generate electricity in order to supply Hamilton and the vicinity with light and power at a lower price than could be obtained at any other point in the Dominion of Canada, has now become an accomplished fact.

To-day, Hamilton's Street and Radial Railway systems (reaching out to a radius of 25 miles) are operated, her streets and residences are illuminated, and the machinery of her immense manufacturing establishments are driven by this power, generated by the same waters that pour over the Fall of Niagara into Lake Ontario. This silent but potent power gives to Hamilton the unique position of being the leading manufacturing centre of the Province, and the hub of electrical power in the Dominion.

No other Canadian city has won for itself the industrial celebrity that Hamilton has in her thrifty application of skill and capital to widely diversified industrial operations; while her geographical position at the head of Lake Ontario gives direct communication with the seaboard, and her railway connections are most complete, consisting of the Toronto, Hamilton & Buffalo, Michigan Central, Canadian Pacific, New York Central, Grand Trunk System (Southern, Northern and Northwestern Divisions), and the Lehigh Valley over Grand Trunk tracks.

As a convention city, Hamilton is unsurpassed, having one of the best park systems in the Dominion, among which may be mentioned Dundurn, with its quaint old castle, and 41 acres of the most beautiful park property in Canada, extending out to Burlington Heights.

The city has also a number of large halls suitable for society gatherings, and the most handsomely equipped hotel—the Royal—in Canada. It is a veritable marble palace, and has few equals even in the largest cities of the United States. There are also eight first-class hotels with accommodation for one hundred and fifty guests each, and a large number of second-class houses.

The City of Hamilton is fast becoming the centre of a wide spread and magnificent system of Radial Railways. The Hamilton & Dundas Street Railway reaches out to the Town of Dundas, about five miles to the west.

The Hamilton, Grimsby & Beamsville Electric Railway travels to the east through a country that for years has been known as the fruit garden of Canada, to Grimsby and Beamsville, a distance of 23 miles. People from all parts of the world have visited this district to view the great garden in all its glory. Nearly $1,000,000 worth of fruit is annually shipped away, and a great portion of it passes through the City of Hamilton.

The Hamilton Radial Electric Railway leaves Hamilton by the north-east, skirts the Bay shore until the Beach is reached, and passes between handsome villa residences erected by the citizens of Hamilton along its entire length, and has its present terminus in the pretty little village of Burlington, ten miles from the City of Hamilton.

There is also within the City of Hamilton 19 miles of street railway tracks. Population—about 56,000,
